18-043 NFA Hazardous Materials Incident Management (N0243)

Dates: April 9-14, 2018 9am

Location: Anchorage Fire Training Center Anchorage, Alaska

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This six-day course focuses on the duties and responsibilities of the emergency response personnel who will assume the Incident Commander (IC) role in hazardous materials emergencies above the initial response and will implement a National Incident Management System (NIMS)-based Incident Command System (ICS). Based on the current requirements of 29 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 1910.120 and the applicable national standards and plans, the program follows three phases of an incident: preplanning, incident operations and post-incident responsibilities. This course meets the NIMS requirements for ICS-300. Topics include negligence and liability, planning, NIMS ICS/Emergency Operations Center (EOC) interface, training requirements, and emergency response plans. The student will develop a hazard-based response using risk-based decision-making to develop an Incident Action Plan.

TARGET AUDIENCE: Emergency response personnel who may be called upon to assume the duties of the IC at hazardous materials incidents, and safety officers, departmental training officers, chief officers, company officers and emergency management personnel who would interface with response personnel through an EOC operation at a hazardous materials incident.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES:

Course materials will be provided to registered students at the beginning of class. 100% attendance and participation is required. Each student needs to obtain a Student Identification Number (SID) prior to attending a NFA course. Please follow the link for more information:
